

THE IMPACT OF BOLASHAK PROGRAM ON INTERNATIONALIZATION OF HIGHER EDUCATION IN KAZAKHSTAN

Kamshat Saginbekova

PhD in Economics, Senior Lecturer, Higher School of Economics, KAZGUU University, Astana, Kazakhstan

Aizhan Kashkenova

MA in TESOL, Department Chair, Higher School of Economics, KAZGUU University, Astana, Kazakhstan

Gulbarshyn Kaidarova

DipIFR ACCA, Department Chair, Higher School of Economics, KAZGUU University, Astana, Kazakhstan

The preliminary study aims to evaluate the intentions of the Bolashak Alumni and actual performance on internationalization agenda of Higher Education in Kazakhstan. This paper reviews the theoretical and empirical research analyzing the internationalization of higher education (HE). Bolashak Alumni were enrolled in this study and shed light on HE in the context of internationalization. The findings of the study revealed that Bolashak Alumni demonstrated their intentions about the process of implementation of the gained knowledge into designing the academic program (curriculum) or its alternative ways.

Keywords: internationalization, academic integrity, Bolashak Alumni.